

Faculty of Medicine and Health Institute of Psychological Sciences Leeds Cognitive Group

Research Fellow in Cognitive Psychology (Neuroscience)

The Institute is seeking to appoint a post-doctoral researcher with experience of EEG/ERP methods. The main duties will be to design, run and analyse experiments in the department's new Neurophysiological Laboratories, which feature state of the art EEG/ERP equipment (Neuroscan and EGI). The successful candidate will have experience of conducting research and a strong academic understanding of cognitive neuroscience.

You will have ring-fenced personal research time and will be expected to carry out your own research with a view to generating high-quality publications. You will also be expected to collaborate with Leeds Cognition Group faculty members to support selected high-quality EEG/ERP projects by aiding experimental design, implementation and analysis.

This post is fixed term for a period of 12 months in the first instance, with the possibility for extension based on outstanding research performance measured by publications and grant applications.

Job Ref 314324 Closing Date: 22-06-09

Research Context

The research mission of the Institute of Psychological Sciences (IPS), University of Leeds is to conduct research on psychological processes that inform and enhance our understanding of the human condition. There is a strong focus on the application of this knowledge to improve the quality of people's lives and the environments in which they live.

IPS is ranked 11th among 76 Psychology Departments in the UK in terms of Research Power (i.e., research quality x quantity of research activity). Each of the three main areas of our research (Biological Psychology, Cognitive Psychology, Health/Social Psychology) were judged to be of a high quality. During the assessment period (January 1st 2001 to December 31st 2008), members of the Institute:

- were awarded over £6M in research income.
- authored over 500 refereed journal articles.

IPS has excellent research facilities and over the last five years has used SRIF funding to invest heavily in infrastructure including an extensive, fully equipped Human Factors Laboratory Suite, with the capacity to monitor human performance in complex environments, a Human Neurocognitive research facility and a Health and Social Psychology Laboratory.

The Institute's success in RAE2008 reflects our continuing and growing strength in research achievement, building on the 'excellent' (5) rating in the previous research assessment exercise.

Prof Martin Conway (Head of Institute) has instigated an 'early career development policy' meaning we have a high proportion of high-flying early career researchers reflecting a flourishing research community consisting of 40 HEFCE funded staff. Research activity in IPS draws on the strength of diverse research approaches and methods (qualitative and quantitative) and is currently organised under three separate but interdependent areas: Cognitive Psychology, Health and Social Psychology, and Biopsychology. You would join the Leeds Cognition Group.

The proposed research fits within one of the three main research areas in the Institute of Psychological Sciences – Cognitive Psychology. The Leeds Cognition Group conducts research into key areas of cognition such as basic memory and perceptual processes in addition to areas of applied interest such as auditory displays and emotion-based design. Targeted professorial appointments over the past few years have allowed us to attract high quality staff to form a collegiate but ambitious group with a growing international recognition.

Job Purpose

Under the direction of the Leeds Cognition Group leader (Prof. Mon-Williams) and your mentor (Dr. Wilkie) you will have responsibility for planning and executing a programme of research using EEG/ERP techniques; analysing and interpreting data; reporting progress at steering group meetings and writing up the work.

Main Duties and Responsibilities of the Post

- To generate research output and contribute to the generation of independent and original ideas, as appropriate.
- Develop and finesse experimental methodology and apply to tackle research questions.

- Keep abreast of changes in the field.
- Work within the research team to facilitate the efficient progress of the research programme.
- Participate in lab meetings, journal clubs and seminar programmes.
- Participate in research discussions and preparation of reports for publication and conference presentation.
- Contribute towards presenting research at national and international conferences.
- Attend training courses in research methodology, research writing and gain other skills required for career development.
- To manage the efficient day to day running of laboratories including the management of support staff, to provide expertise in maintenance of laboratory equipment and organisation of servicing and repairs.
- Ensure compliance with all relevant safety legislation in all laboratories and offices, including arrangement of training for staff (at all levels), preparation of appropriate documentation on safety (including staff safety handbook) and proactive liaison with relevant external agencies regarding safety issues. Liaising with Section Heads and others to agree the level of service required and how this will be delivered.
- Maintain all laboratory equipment in good working order, including basic troubleshooting, arrangement of servicing and repairs. Arrange regular meetings with technical staff to manage laboratory safety, purchasing and other laboratory management issues.

Specific Responsibilities and Accountabilities

- Under the direction of the senior members of the cognitive research group plan and co-ordinate the research programme
- Organise the recruitment of participants for a series of experiments.
- Work with the research group to design EEG/ERP studies.
- Contribute and where possible lead the analysis, interpretation and write up of these experiment.
- Manage usage and monitor the EEG laboratories to ensure smooth running of all experiments within these labs.

This job description provides a framework for the role of Research Fellow in the Institute of Psychological Sciences and should not be regarded as a definitive list of duties and responsibilities, which will develop and change over time through natural progression.

Although this appointment is based in the Institute of Psychological Sciences, all University appointments are made on the understanding that individuals may be transferred to other departments or sections when special circumstances make it appropriate.

Career Expectations

The University of Leeds is committed to developing its staff. All staff participate in the Staff Review and Development scheme and we continue to work with individuals supporting them to maximise their potential.

Progression to a higher grade is dependent on an individual taking on an increased level of responsibility. Vacancies that arise within the area or across the wider University are advertised on the HR website -

http://www.leeds.ac.uk/hr/jobs/index.htm - to allow staff to apply for wider career development opportunities.

Pension information

For appointments to academic or professional and managerial grades you will be eligible to join the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS) and will automatically be entered into this Scheme when you commence employment at the University. Full details of the benefits offered by the Scheme can be found on their website www.usshq.co.uk, and more information can also be obtained from the University Pensions Department.

If you are being appointed to a clinical post with the University, you may retain the right to remain in the NHS pension scheme.

If you are an existing University member of staff and are currently on a support grade, you will be eligible to join USS on your appointment to an academic or professional and managerial grade. You may decide to transfer the benefits you have built up in the Pension and Assurance Scheme (PAS) to USS, however this transfer will not be on a year for year basis and you may decide instead to leave these benefits deferred in the PAS scheme. The pensions department will be able to give you further details regarding the options available to you.

If your appointment is to a grade 7 post, in some circumstances it may be possible for you to remain in PAS, please speak to the pensions department for further details.

The University of Leeds

With a proud tradition and an ambitious future vision the University of Leeds offers an exciting environment for all staff. We want to build on over a century of achievement and we now have a new ambition to be in the top 50 universities in the world by 2015. Our staff will be crucial in achieving this vision and we are looking for more talented people to play a part in our future.

Established as an independent institution in 1904 we are now one of the largest universities in the UK with an outstanding reputation for our research and teaching.

Leeds is a member of the Russell Group of UK research-led universities and is a founder member of the World Universities Network (WUN), a global alliance of major international institutions gathered from the UK, North America and Asia. These networks give our staff and students further support for international collaboration. Our wide range of research areas – from medicine to performing arts – creates a tremendous base for collaboration between colleagues.

Around 12% of our 32,000 students are international and come from over 100 countries. We are consistently one of the UK's most popular institutions for undergraduates. They choose Leeds for the quality of our courses and student experience. Our students are challenged by learning and teaching which is informed by our research. We are building stronger relationships with our graduates, and they are increasingly playing a role in campus life.

With around 7,500 staff the University is one of the largest employers in Leeds and one of the most diverse with staff of around 100 nationalities. We offer a range of benefits as an employer and we are continuing to invest in services and facilities for staff. These include a new staff centre and plans for a new swimming pool and fitness complex which join existing facilities like the nursery and sports centre.

Our 98 acre campus is minutes away from the centre of one the UK's biggest cities.

The City of Leeds

Leeds is the fastest growing city in the UK and home to over three-quarters of a million people. It is located in the heart of the UK and is the regional capital of Yorkshire and the Humber.

It is unrivalled in the north of England as a major shopping destination and centre for the arts, entertainment, nightlife and leisure. The city has a rich cultural heritage with a wide range of theatres, cinemas, museums and art galleries and a thriving music scene to cater for all tastes. Leeds has a proud sporting tradition and there are plenty of opportunities to participate in everything at all levels.

Home to some of the UK's and Europe's leading companies, Leeds has seen the fastest rate of growth in terms of job creation in the UK over the last two decades. It is the main centre for the regional headquarters of government departments and utilities providers and the National Health Service. It is also recognised as a major centre for financial services and is the top legal and media centre in the UK outside London.

Leeds has excellent communication and transport links. The city is well served by affordable, frequent local transport and has extensive coach and rail services connecting Leeds with the rest of the UK. Leeds/Bradford airport provides regular flights to an increasing number of destinations.

Large areas of parkland make Leeds a very green city. There are many areas of natural beauty and interest in Leeds from the national attractions of the Royal Armouries and the Thackray National Medical Museum to the fine mansions of Harewood House, Temple Newsam and Lotherton Hall. Leeds is also within easy reach of the Yorkshire Dales, the Peak District, the Lake District and historic towns such as York, Harrogate, Ripon and Bradford.

Rich in history, with a diverse economy, thriving cultural scene and a cosmopolitan atmosphere, Leeds stands proud as a city of regional, national and international importance.
